CLASS OF 2005

Of all the things business owners must think about daily, computer support shouldn't be one of them. Since 2001 The Purple Guys have worked tirelessly to relieve the burden on businesses of obtaining reliable, secure IT support services in Kansas City, and now in St. Louis.

Knowing your data is protected and your computers are running at full efficiency has value. Tremendous value. The Purple Guys stand guard 24/7, protecting business assets and supporting every aspect of a company's IT systems.

Imagine being in a business where technology changes constantly.

Keeping up with that never-ending change takes a commitment to education and training. The Purple Guys' clients have confidence that their technology is current, contemporary and operating at full capacity.

Innovation and technology go hand-in-hand. The Purple Guys were one of the first computer support providers to introduce flat fee managed services as a means of taking the guesswork out of investing in IT services. All-inclusive flat fee services give business owners the greatest peace-of-mind. Now their investment in IT support is reliable and predictable.

In 2001, The Purple Guys President & CEO Jon Schram made a commitment to establish world-class IT services for smaller companies right here in Kansas City. Now those same services and same commitment will extend across Missouri to service clients in the greater St. Louis area.

"Our expansion to the St. Louis area is a means to better serve our existing clients in the region as well as to grow our presence substantially," said Schram. We're excited and optimistic that St. Louis business owners will embrace us as much as Kansas City owners have.

Commitment to community has always been a cornerstone of The Purple Guys mission. Harvesters Community Food Bank and Go Red for Women in support of the American Heart Association are just two of the many community initiatives supported by The Purple Guys.

Reliable, knowledgeable, committed and focused. The Purple Guys of Kansas City (and now St. Louis) think bigger—for themselves and their clients. ●
